

To: the Homeowners of Forty Love Point & Indian Fork:

WATER CONSERVATION NOTICE
NEW WATER USAGE RESTRICTIONS
Effective July 15, 2014

This is a reminder that a temporary irrigation restriction remains in effect for the Forty Love Point and Indian Fork subdivisions until further notice. A limited water supply coupled with increasing water demands have placed a strain on the ground water pumps and well yields resulting in periods of low pressure at higher elevations in the community.

Due to continued high demands, we are amending the restrictions from two days per week to one day per week.

Even with the current restrictions in place, the demand remains high due primarily to irrigation. Because of the demands being placed on the system, the six well sources are running for extended periods of time which does not provide for water tables to recover adequately in order that they are available for the next demand period.

Until further notice, the following amended irrigation schedule is now in effect.

Carolina Water Service is asking you to conserve water as follows:

Restrictions on Use of Outside Water:

- 1. Outdoor irrigation limited to a maximum of one day per week
  - a. Premises with even addresses – Tuesday, or Thursday.
  - b. Premises with odd addresses – Wednesday, or Friday.
- 2. No watering is allowed on Saturday through Monday to give the water system a chance to recharge.
- 3. No watering is to occur between the hours of 5:00 am and 9:00 am or between 3:00 pm and 8:00 pm.

Please follow these watering restrictions so as to avoid further restrictions which could include prohibiting all outdoor water usage.

Carolina Water Service has been seeking suitable property in a separate location in order to drill another well. We are close to coming to terms with the purchase of a property for a new well installation. Once the new well source is in service and running, the system should return to satisfactory and consistent pressure throughout the day.

Once conditions allow for the lifting of the restrictions, either because the climate improves or because an additional water source is secured, the restrictions will be lifted.

We greatly appreciate your cooperation and efforts to conserve water during this time.
